

Did you know...

it's recommended to get a new toothbrush every three months? Now that you do, be sure to recycle your old toothbrushes when you get a new one!

The Oberlin College Office of Environmental Sustainability (OES) is happy to announce a new recycling program for Oberlin. This program, called TerraCycle Oral Care Brigade, will collect used toothbrushes, empty toothpaste tubes, floss containers and product packaging. TerraCycle is a recycling and up-cycling company that collects hard to recycle materials and repurposes their components into new products.

How can you be involved?

Collection bins for old toothbrushes, empty toothpaste tubes, floss containers and product packaging are located at City Hall, 85 S. Main St.; the front lobby of Mudd Library and at Oberlin Family Dentistry, 542 W. Lorain St. All are welcome to drop off oral care materials at these locations during business hours. If you have any questions about the program, don't hesitate to reach out to sustainability@oberlin.edu.

All oral care brand items accepted*
