

We continue to add cities in Ohio! The latest is Oberlin, 35 miles southwest of Cleveland. Of course, Oberlin College, famous for its liberal arts and music conservatory, is firmly rooted in this city of about 8,600 people. Oberlin was founded by two Presbyterian ministers in 1833. It is a quaint yet vibrant American city!

The future looks good for the monarchs as they migrate through northwest Ohio. Thank you, Oberlin, for joining in our community efforts to help the next generations of monarchs.

Remember, if you need it, we give free advice about how to have a monarch festival.

WINGS UP!!

Update from Fairfield Bay, Arkansas

Our city signed an agreement with a neighboring school that has a greenhouse. They are going to raise close to 1000 milkweed plants for our Bloomin' in the Bay/ BBQ festival. Agri and science students from the other two neighboring schools will transplant the milkweed to various sites around the city. They will work in coordination with our Master Gardeners Group! We are also planning a butterfly count and tagging expedition with these students!

Board of Advisors Addition

We are proud to add to our Board of Advisors Wendy Kertesz, a land developer located in Cleveland, Ohio. She is directly responsible for a new project near Canal Fulton, Ohio: MONARCH, A Living Resort, and Monarch Learning Lab. The Monarch Learning Lab has asked Russ, our Director, to be on its Board of Advisors. We are happy to join hands to help our society with environmental awareness and care, which will help the monarch butterfly survive and thrive! We look forward to your advice.

WELCOME WENDY!
